

Adam Chesler:

Adam Chesler is currently the Senior Vice President of Strategic Initiatives with VillageMD and has more than 20 years of experience in healthcare including positions as Vice President of Operations for TelePharm, Director of Regulatory and Legislative Affairs for Cardinal Health, Director of Strategic Alliances for PTCB, and Manager roles with Walgreens and Target. He is a graduate of the University of Miami with a bachelor's degree in health science, and also earned a doctorate degree in Pharmacy and a master's in business administration from the University of Texas.